Dear Sirs,

I recently engaged your company to undertake a house clearance at my father's property, who has recently died.

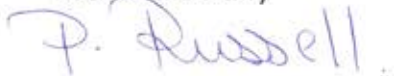

From looking on the internet for a suitable company through to the actual work being carried out, I was very impressed with the standard of the work and the professionalism of all the staff.

They undertook the work with compassion, understanding the impact emptying the family home would have on me. On the day, there was a member of staff and two volunteers and I cannot speak highly enough of them. They were professional, honest, diligent, methodical, knowledgeable, hard workers.

I would recommend your company to anyone looking for this type of work to be undertaken and I was particularly impressed with the way all unsaleable items are disposed of in an environmentally friendly way.

Thank you for making an unhappy experience an easier task for me.

Yours faithfully

Mrs Pam Russell
